A New Hat

LYMA CARUS

The hat shown in this illustration is worn by Miss Emma Carus, star of "A Broadway Honeymoon," at Chicago and was made by Maison Furby, of Paris. It is a tight fitting black velvet cap, the top being shaped like an envelope. Its simplicity is really its greatest charm.

The only trimmings are two uncurled plumes of a smoke brown, one draped across the front, the other, the taller feather, pointing towards the back. This hat should be worn over the hair at the back of the head.

Cards

Wife or Mother?

Which?

When a Man's Wife and His Mother Quarrel, With Which Is He to Side?

(By Dorothy Dix.)

LOOK long at this picture. Study it well. Note the two angry women who stand facing each other, bitterness and hatred in their hearts, cruel words upon their lips, and then take heed of the forlorn, helpless, pathetic figure of the man between them. How can he decide against his mother? Wife and mother! These are the two women in the world the man loves best, the ones to whom he has most tried to do his duty, and between them they are crucifying him.

How shall a man decide? He loves his wife devotedly. She is the one woman in all the world he picked out to be his companion through life. He knows that she loves him. She is his mother's daughter, and loyal to him. A thousand voices bid him choose his wife if he must decide between the two women.

But there is his mother—his old mother—the being above all others sacred in his eyes; the one who went down into the Valley of the Shadow to bring him into life; the one who nursed him through his helpless infancy; who has cherished his every step through life, and whose sacrifices for him have been uncounted.

He remembers the long nights she sat patiently by his bed; the times she wept shabbily that he might have new clothes to look as well as his school-mates; the striving and self-denial by which she put him through college.

It is a tragic situation, grotesquely tragic, because both women love the man they torture. They would do anything else on earth for him except to sink their petty spite and jealousy and try to get along together.

There is no phase of human weakness so miserable and contemptible as the jealousy that makes the average mother-in-law and daughter-in-law hate each other at sight, because it is a jealousy that has no foundation to stand upon. The love that a man gives to his wife, his mate, and that he gives to his mother are as different as wine and water.

One does not conflict with the other, and, as a matter of fact, a man is tenderer to his wife the more he loves his mother, and the more he appreciates his mother the more he sees what wifehood and motherhood mean to his own wife.

It would seem that if a young woman had one spark of generosity in her nature, and if she really loved the man she married, she would feel that of all women on earth, next to her own mother, the closest to her was the

HOW TO SAVE YOUR EYES

Try This Free Prescription

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your muscles, but how about your eyes? Do you rest them? You know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription which has benefited the eyes of so many may work equally wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye trouble to disappear as if by magic? Try this prescription: Go to the nearest wake-awake drug store and get a bottle of Opton tablets; fill a two-ounce bottle with water; drop in one tablet and allow to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just as quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes, and you will thank us as long as you live for publishing this prescription.—Advertisement.

woman who had reared up her good husband.

It would seem that if a mother really loved her son, she would desire above everything else his happiness, and that if he had married a wife who was good to him, and tender, and affable, and helpful to him, she would be filled with gratitude toward her.

But is this the case? Far from it. Wife is filled with surging jealousy of mother-in-law, because her husband still loves the mother who bore him. Mother is green-eyed when she thinks of daughter-in-law, because her son picked her out for a wife. And they nag each other, and harp on each other's faults, and interfere with each other, and hate each other worse than poison.

Of course no one will contend that it is easy for a daughter-in-law and a mother-in-law to get along comfortably together. They may be utterly different in disposition, and everybody has their faults and foibles.

Admittedly nearly all old people are cranky and bossy. Undoubtedly all young women think that they are Solomon's in petticoats.

But twice this is true, it is also true that any mother-in-law and daughter-in-law can get along harmoniously if they want to do so, and try to make friends, and that they can think their differences for the sake of the man they love, if they love him unselfishly.

ALAMOGORDO PRETTY CITY

EASTERN SENATORS SAY Alamogordo, N. M., Oct. 20.—That little city they had seen on their westward trip was the unanimous opinion of United States senators Townsend, of Michigan; Robinson, of Arkansas, and congressman John H. Stephens, of the 13th district of Texas, who spent a few hours here. The party motored down from Three Rivers with Judge A. B. Fall, United States senator from this state, and were the guests of state senator John M. Bowman at luncheon in the Alamogordo hotel. They left by auto for Lordsburg, where the congressional party boarded a Southwest train for the north and east.

Messrs. Townsend, Robinson and Stephens came up from El Paso on an official trip of inspection of the Mesquero Indian reservation, and were taken over the reservation by Judge Fall.

The football team of the Alamo high school played its first regular game here with the team of the Tulare high. The score was 66 to 5 in favor of the home team. Alamogordo's scores were made largely on touchdowns, while Tulare scored only on two field goals. A large crowd witnessed the game, which was played on the ball grounds on the La Luz road.

Rev. Fred C. Collier, of El Paso, preached at the First Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith were in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. P. Ervin, Mrs. John W. March, Miss Sam Hunt, A. Adams and Frank Horn formed an auto party which passed through this city from Santa Fe, en route to El Paso. Mr. Seligman was logging the road, in the interest of the Motor Age.

Mrs. R. H. Pierce is visiting friends and relatives in El Paso.

FROST IS PREDICTED FOR STATES EAST OF THE ROCKIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Wintry weather is predicted for the next few days in the greater part of the country east of the Rocky mountains.

"It is possible," says the weekly weather bulletin, "that general frosts will occur the first half of the week in the great central valleys. Normal temperatures will prevail this week over the Pacific coast. The next disturbance to cross the country will appear in the northwest Wednesday or Thursday and will move eastward and cross the Great central valley Thursday or Friday."

OTHERS SLEPT SHE WORKED

While Others Were Fast Asleep, Mrs. Sanders

Would Often Get Out of Bed and Do Sewing.

Cardi, Ky.—"I was in a terrible condition, caused from nervousness," says Mrs. Boon Sanders, of this place. "At times, last spring and summer, I did not get any rest at night; could not sleep at all. Very often I would get out of my bed and do some of my sewing, while the rest of the family were fast asleep."

One of my lady friends advised me to take Cardi, the woman's tonic. Just as soon as I commenced taking it, I began resting better. After taking four bottles, I now feel better, and get perfect rest and plenty of sleep. I am doing every bit of my housework now, and although I am small, I feel very strong in every way."

You may publish this letter if you wish, and I hope all women who suffer as I did, will try Cardi and get relief."

If you are nervous, run-down, discouraged, fagged out, don't give up—try Cardi, the woman's tonic. This great medicine has been used for more than half a century by thousands and thousands of women, and has been found to be a specific, building medicine for nearly all the ills from which women suffer.

Cardi, being composed of harmless vegetable ingredients, cannot possibly harm you, and is almost certain to help you. Try it.

All druggists sell Cardi.
